

Inter College Radio Network Becomes Largest Organization

The newly formed Inter College Radio network, to be known as I.C.R., has elected its executive committee for the coming year. They are as follows: president, Bill Cleverly; technical director, Roy Krause; station manager, WCCT, Gary Heyer; station manager, WNTC, Ed Bailey; business manager, Rick Christian; secretary, Bob Stolte.

Bill Cleverly, a junior E.E., moves up to his new position from that of technical director of WNTC, a position he has held for two years. Moving into the spot of network technical director is Roy Krause, also a junior E.E. Roy, as a founder and present technical director of WCCT, is responsible for the construction of WCCT's present electronic equipment. Gary Heyer, a sophomore I.D., takes over the job of WCCT station manager after having held the position of WCCT's "Music to Study By" program director for the past semester. Ed Bailey, a student at State University College, assumes his position as WNTC station manager after years of experience on WNTC with the last semester spent as their program director. Rick Christian, a junior I.D., takes over the business department after a most successful year as WNTC sales manager. Bob Stolte, a sophomore I.D., will hold the position of secretary on the new executive committee. Bob has spent the last year as WCCT's business affairs director.

These six senior board members of the new Inter College Radio Network will take over the operation of WNTC and

(Continued on page 5)

Radio Network

(Continued from page 1) WCCT on the network level. The day to day operations of the two stations will remain in the hands of the respective station managers and their staffs.

The I.C.R. network, through the new executive committee, has set up the following five points as its major objectives for the coming year:

1) The creation of a well rounded program schedule, designed to please the largest number of students.

2) The continued bettering of the technical facilities of both stations in order to provide the listeners with the highest possible quality.

3) The expansion of both stations to reach the most students possible. This will include WCCT serving all State dorms.

4) The licensing of WCCT-FM as an educational FM station.

5) The expansion of advertising sales.

The merger of WNTC and WCCT into the I.C.R. network creates the largest organization of the combined campuses.